A message from

President

Peter MacKinnon

I want to express a very warm welcome to the graduates, families and friends who join us today. Convocation is the University's most important ceremony, for it is here that we celebrate the accomplishments of our students and the contributions of their loved ones to their success. You should be proud of this day, and of the commitment and sacrifice that it represents.

We at the University of Saskatchewan salute you—our graduates—and we extend to you our very best wishes for the future. We hope that you will stay in touch with us through our University of Saskatchewan alumni family, and that we will have the opportunity to welcome you 'home' to our campus many times in the years ahead.

The Chancellor

W. T. (Tom) Molloy

Tom Molloy was born and raised in Saskatoon. He attended St. Thomas More College and later the College of Law, both at the University of Saskatchewan. He received his B.A. and LL.B. in 1964. He has practiced law in Saskatoon since graduation and is with the MacPherson Leslie & Tyerman's Saskatoon office. He has represented the Government of Canada as the Chief Federal Negotiator in the successfully concluded treaties in Nunavut and with the Nisga'a in British Columbia and an Agreement in Principle with the Sechelt Indian Band. He presently represents Canada in treaty negotiations in British Columbia, Quebec, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and Nunavut. Mr. Molloy has been described as "Canada's most expert treaty negotiator."

Mr. Molloy recently authored a book The World is our Witness: The Historic Journey of the Nisga'a into Canada. The book has won two Saskatchewan Book Awards, The Brenda MacDonald Riches First Book Award and the Non-fiction Award which was sponsored by the University of Saskatchewan.

For his work in the community he has received a number of awards including the City of Saskatoon Certificate of Distinguished Community Service; Rotary Golden Wheels Award for Excellence, Saskatoon B'nai Brith "Proud of You Award" and the Head of the Public Service Award for Excellence in Service Delivery.

In 1996 he was made an officer of the Order of Canada, with a citation that reads: He is widely known for his role as Chief Negotiator for the Government of Canada in the Nunavut Land Claim Agreement. His integrity, commitment to a just settlement and personable rapport have also been valuable in his leadership of numerous cultural, educational and charitable groups, not only in Saskatchewan but also nationally, including the Meewasin Foundation and PRIDE Canada.

The University of Saskatchewan Alumni Association awarded him the 2000 Alumni Honour Award in recognition of receiving notable acclaim for professional achievements, which in turn has enhanced the image of the University of Saskatchewan and its alumni. In January 2001, The Canadian Bar Association Saskatchewan Branch named him as the recipient of the Distinguished Service Award.

2004 Spring Convocation

The word “Convocation” arises from the Latin “con” meaning “together,” and “vocare” meaning “to call.” Our Convocation ceremony is a calling together of the new graduates of the University of Saskatchewan, symbolizing the historical practice of calling together all former graduates. In current times, the major functions of Convocation are the election of representatives to University governing bodies and the admission of candidates to degrees. The Chancellor, elected by Convocation as its Chair, is the highest official and spokesperson of the University.

The Convocation ceremony marks the transition from the role of student to the holder of a degree with its accompanying rights and privileges. Candidates for degrees, known as graduands, having completed the requirements of a course of study, are recommended by college faculties and the University Council to receive degrees from the University of Saskatchewan.

The ceremony, solemnized in the presence of the University community and family and friends of the graduands, consists of three parts: a procession marking the leaving of the old status and entering the new; the President’s statement to the graduands, the Secretary’s petition and the Chancellor’s consent for their admission; followed by individual presentation by their Dean and admission by the Chancellor to the degrees to which they are entitled. As graduates are admitted to their degrees, a graduation hood, which has a colour symbolizing a particular degree, is placed over each graduate’s head. A banner displaying the University crest is hung above the stage, as a symbol of the University’s authority to confer degrees.

Following the conferring of degrees and acceptance of each graduate as a member of Convocation, a reception is held—a celebration on the occasion of the formal transition from the role of learner to the role of producer and contributor in the field of the graduate’s choice.

We honour and welcome this year’s graduates!

Honorary Doctor of Laws

Dafydd (Dave) Rhys Williams

Born in Saskatoon, Dafydd (David) Rhys Williams attended high school in Beaconsfield, Quebec. He graduated from McGill University with a Bachelor of Science in Biology in 1976 and went on to obtain a Master of Science in Physiology, a Doctorate of Medicine and a Master of Surgery from the Faculty of Medicine at McGill University in 1983.

In June 1992, the Canadian Space Agency selected Dr. Williams as one of four successful candidates from a field of 5,330 applicants to begin astronaut training. In May 1993, he was appointed manager of the Missions and Space Medicine Group within the Canadian Astronaut Program.

In January 1995, Dr. Williams was selected to join the international class of NASA mission specialist astronaut candidates. He spent one year training at the Johnson Space Centre, and in May 1996 was assigned to the Payloads and Habitability Branch of the NASA Astronaut Office.

Dr. Williams' first foray into space took place in April 1998 aboard the space shuttle Columbia. During the 16-day flight, called Neurolab, the seven-person crew served as both experiment subjects and operators for 26 individual life science experiments. These experiments, dedicated to the advancement of neuroscience research, focused on the effects of microgravity on the brain and the nervous system. Dr. Williams also functioned as the crew medical officer, the flight engineer during the ascent phase and was trained to perform contingency spacewalks.

During the Neurolab mission, Columbia orbited Earth

256 times, covered over 10 million kilometres and spent over 381 hours in space.

From July 1998 until September 2002, Dr. Williams held the position of Director of the Space and Life Sciences Directorate at the Johnson Space Centre in Texas. With this appointment, he became the first non-American to hold a senior management position within NASA. He concurrently held a six-month position as the first Deputy Associated Administrator for Crew Health and Safety in the Office of Spaceflight at NASA Headquarters in 2001.

In addition to his assignments, Dr. Williams continues to take part in astronaut training. In October 2001, after training as an aquanaut, he became the first Canadian to have lived and worked in space and the ocean.

Dr. Williams is currently training to participate in his second spaceflight, Mission STS-118/13A.a. During the 11-day mission to add a truss segment and relocate solar arrays on the International Space Station, Dr. Williams will perform three spacewalks.

Many awards and special honours have been bestowed upon Dr. Williams including several Commonwealth awards and prizes. In 2002, he received the NASA Outstanding Leadership Medal, and in 2003, a NASA Johnson Space Centre and Life Sciences Directorate Special Professional Achievement Award for the implementation of the Automatic External Defibrillator Program that has saved several lives at the NASA Johnson Space Centre.

Dr. Williams is married and has two children.

Honorary Doctor of Science

Marcel (Marc) Baltzan

Dr. Baltzan was born and educated in Saskatoon and later obtained his Doctorate of Medicine at McGill University.

He returned to Saskatoon in 1959 to set up a private practice in Internal Medicine and was one of the first clinicians to set up a basic sciences lab where he examined free fatty acids in patients.

Shortly after, Dr. Baltzan and his brother set up the first dialysis unit at St. Paul's Hospital and started one of the very early renal transplant programs in Canada.

Dr. Baltzan held several leadership positions in medical education while maintaining a busy schedule teaching medical students, interns and residents on the wards of St. Paul's Hospital and Royal University Hospital. He would forge strong ties with the College of Medicine at the University of Saskatchewan, serving as Chair of the Department of Medicine and Professor of Medicine.

Never one to avoid a challenge, Dr. Baltzan took on Presidency of the Canadian Medical Association, Saskatchewan Medical Association and the Saskatoon and District Medical Society.

Dr. Baltzan is a man of many facets, and a master of most of them. In 1999, he was acknowledged by his peers in the American College of Physicians, who awarded him the status of Master of the ACP—a rare distinction. He is also an Officer of the Order of Canada (1995), has received the Saskatchewan Order of Merit (1999) and was named an Innovative Canadian Physician in the Last 35 Years by the Medical Post (2000).

Dr. Baltzan is an outstanding clinician-scientist, medical economist, medical organizer and educator. Above all, he is an exceptional role model for today's medical students.

Earned Doctor of Science

Rajendra K. Sharma

Rajendra (Raj) K. Sharma was born in Hathras, India, and obtained a B.Sc. and M.Sc. from Aligarh University. He was awarded a Research Fellowship from the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research in India for a Ph.D. in Biochemistry at All India Institute of Medical Sciences, New Delhi. Dr. Sharma's outstanding work was published in the prestigious Journal of Biological Chemistry.

Awarded a Postdoctoral Fellowship from the U.S. National Science Foundation, Dr. Sharma joined Tufts University School of Medicine in Boston where his major interest was the folate enzyme thymidylate synthetase, a target for cancer chemotherapeutic drugs. Dr. Sharma moved to the University of Manitoba and then the University of Calgary, making several milestone discoveries in the area of signal transduction systems during his time at these institutions.

Dr. Sharma joined the Department of Pathology in the College of Medicine at the University of Saskatchewan as an Associate Professor in 1991 and was promoted to full professor in 1996. He is a Research Scientist in the Cancer Research Centre of the Saskatchewan Cancer Agency. Dr. Sharma also holds Associate Memberships in the departments of Pharmacology and Surgery.

Dr. Sharma has made outstanding contributions in the area of colon cancer, demonstrating for the first time the role of N-myristoyltransferase (NMT) in a rat model as well as in patients undergoing resection for colon cancer. This study indicated that a significant increase in NMT activity and expression appears at an early stage of colon cancer.

Dr. Sharma has had a long-standing interest in biochemical regulatory mechanisms in areas involving the cardiovascular system, certain brain tumors and colorectal cancer. He has discovered and purified more than a dozen new proteins, mostly related to the area of signal transduction, and has published 153 papers (115 full-length refereed papers and 38 book chapters and review articles) and co-edited a book on Signal Transduction Mechanisms. Dr. Sharma's research is supported by the Canadian Institutes of Health Research and the Heart and Stroke Foundation of Saskatchewan.

Dr. Sharma has collaborated with several faculties (including the Plant Biotechnology Institute, National Research Council of Canada and with several universities and institutions in Canada, the United States, France, India and Hong Kong); has trained several post-doctoral fellows and students now established worldwide; and has arranged symposiums both nationally and internationally.

Dr. Sharma is a dedicated and outstanding scientist with an international reputation for conducting innovative research in widely disparate areas involving enzymology, signal transduction and cancer. His scientific endeavours are held in high esteem by the international scientific community.

Master Teacher Award

John Thompson

Emphasizing the importance of teaching at the University of Saskatchewan, the Master Teacher Award honours faculty who excel as teachers. Professor John Thompson, Department of Sociology, St. Thomas More College, has been named as recipient of this prestigious award at Spring Convocation, 2004.

Professor Thompson earned his B.A. in Philosophy from Spring Hill College, Alabama; his M.A. in Theology from the University of Santa Clara, California; and his M.A. and Ph.D. in Sociology from the University of California, Santa Barbara. He joined St. Thomas More College at the University of Saskatchewan in 1975, becoming a Professor in 1993.

Dr. Thompson has a comprehensive knowledge of his discipline, demonstrating excellence in research, publishing regularly in leading journals and presenting the results of his research at learned conferences. All Master Teachers are expected to be distinguished researchers—however, student evaluations, comments by colleagues and a distinguished teaching portfolio demonstrate that Dr. Thompson is also a bright flame among teachers at the University of Saskatchewan.

John not only teaches sociology, his teaching changes lives. A former undergraduate states eloquently, “Dr. Thompson taught me how to use my brain. He also spent laborious hours teaching all of his students how to write. In other classes, I was always very aware that I was only a farmer’s wife with not much of a future. Dr. Thompson showed me that I could use my sociological imagination plus stay in my home community and work with rural people. I will work all of my life to emulate with my social work clients the teaching skill of Dr. Thompson.” A graduate student notes, “John Thompson has been the single most important educator in my life—by far. I picked up his enthusiasm for learning and it has made me more confident and a better person.” Another effuses, “the best evidence of the quality of a professor’s teaching is found in the lives of his students. The skills and confidence I developed as a graduate student under John’s supervision resulted in the incredible opportunities I have had since graduating. I am now a faculty member at the University of Lethbridge because of the academic skills I developed under John’s leadership.”

Most of his students remember “A Live Sociologist at Work—Writing an Essay in Class.” Using this technique,

Dr. Thompson, with the students, writes an essay from scratch on the blackboard, demonstrating and discussing the painstaking processes of academic writing. It is a powerful and precarious teaching tool.

Professor Thompson has developed, in the words of STM President George Smith, “a virtual obsession for the welfare of students.” He has shown himself to be a superb teacher and an excellent emissary of his discipline, touching everyone he encounters with his passion for sociology and his absolute ardour for the craft and art of teaching. With the dedication he has displayed and the legacy he is building, the University of Saskatchewan enjoys great good fortune having such a fine teacher on its faculty.

President's Service Award

Howie Salisbury

As the University of Saskatchewan campus has grown over the past quarter century, a caring and nurturing hand has ensured that its lifeblood—its extensive mechanical systems—are designed and operated in the best possible way for students, faculty and staff.

Senior Mechanical Engineer Howie Salisbury, who joined the U of S as a mechanical engineer in 1978 and was promoted to the senior post in 1980, has applied what his colleagues call outstanding skill and dedication to his management of this key University infrastructure.

In recognition of his 26 years of exemplary service, Salisbury is being presented with the President's Service Award at the 2004 Spring Convocation.

Born and raised in Saskatoon, Salisbury graduated from the College of Engineering at the University of Saskatchewan in 1970. Over the next eight years he worked for a local mechanical consulting firm and operated his own consulting engineering company before beginning his career with the University.

There are few indoor or outdoor nooks and crannies on campus that Salisbury hasn't been in over the years. His responsibilities include providing engineering expertise to the University's heating plant, with its boilers for steam heating and its water chillers for air conditioning. He also oversees the massive network of campus water lines, sanitary and storm sewers, steam and condensate mains, ventilation, fire suppression systems and natural gas lines. Salisbury also works with engineering firms and contractors on the systems for all new buildings on campus, ensuring they meet campus requirements.

Salisbury has seen great change at the University since 1978, particularly the science buildings and the extent of computerized controls in all buildings. He has played an integral part in upgrading the many systems involved as new buildings were constructed, including VIDO, Dentistry, a major Engineering renovation, Place Riel, Geology, the Diefenbaker Centre, Agriculture, the Animal Resource Centre, the Spinks Addition and the Kinesiology Building. He is also credited with helping to develop energy conservation measures for the mechanical systems that have saved the University millions of dollars.

For Salisbury the excitement is seeing an idea that begins just as a concept, is developed into a design and then becomes an actual operating structure on campus. Colleagues say that Salisbury's enthusiasm shows. He is a respected, positive co-worker and a great listener who goes well beyond the call of duty to apply his extensive engineering knowledge and common sense to develop solutions for people across campus. Salisbury is especially thankful for the tremendous help he has received all along the way from his co-workers in the Facilities Management Division—the designers, planners, back-shop tradespeople and many others.

In his spare time Salisbury restores classic cars and builds custom hotrods, and admits that he's a "fairly fanatical" U of S Huskies football and hockey fan.

J. W. George Ivany Internationalization Award

Gerri Dickson

The J. W. George Ivany Internationalization Award was established by University of Saskatchewan International to recognize outstanding contributions by a member of the University's academic or administrative staff in furthering the process of internationalization at the University of Saskatchewan. The University is delighted to honour, at the Spring 2004 Convocation, Professor Gerri Dickson from the College of Nursing.

Dr. Dickson received her B.S.N. and Ph.D. from the University of Saskatchewan and her M.P.H. from the University of Hawaii. She came to the College of Nursing in 1986 with a rich history of international and cross-cultural work, including community development in the Solomon Islands, coordination of nutrition and maternal child health projects in Papua, New Guinea, and health worker education in Mozambique.

During Dr. Dickson's 18 years at the University of Saskatchewan, she has worked tirelessly to enhance the international and cross-cultural perspectives of faculty and students on campus. Dr. Dickson was instrumental in the creation of the national Native Access Program to Nursing in 1987, a program that has resulted in a significant increase in the number of Aboriginal students who have become nurses. During her Ph.D. research, she established a network of self-help groups for First Nations women living with abuse.

Dr. Dickson has delivered, in the University community and far beyond, hundreds of lectures and presentations related to health care in third-world countries. Through these, she has raised the profile of health issues in these countries, as well as health and social issues for First Nations and Métis people.

Dr. Dickson's international work continues to have a substantial impact on health and development. Since 1991, she has been involved in a CIDA-funded project that works to strengthen STD/AIDS control in Kenya. She also took a lead role in securing CIDA funding for the Training for Health Renewal Program, a hugely successful project now in its sixth year aimed at building capacity in Mozambique and engaging the participating Canadian institutions in the use of innovative approaches to education and practice of health workers. A unique feature of this project is the support and involvement of the health sciences programs at the University of Saskatchewan, including participation of faculty and staff members in a collaborative, inter-disciplinary approach to teaching and learning. Faculty and students from the University of Saskatchewan participate in the education programs of the Mozambican project site, as well as an inter-disciplinary health sciences community practica in an inner-city neighbourhood.

Through Dr. Dickson's passionate work, she has succeeded in engaging the University of Saskatchewan in important health-care initiatives at home and around the world—showing us all what the spirit of internationalization can accomplish.

Distinguished Researcher Award

W.A. (Bill) Waiser

The Distinguished Researcher Award recognizes a faculty member's contribution to scholarship through the creation, expansion and critique of knowledge.

W. A. (Bill) Waiser, Professor of History in the College of Arts & Science, is the recipient of the Spring 2004 award.

Professor Waiser earned a Bachelor of Arts, Honours from Trent University in 1975. He did his graduate work at the University of Saskatchewan, earning a Master's degree (with the support of a Queen's Fellowship from the Canada Council) in 1976 and his Ph.D. in 1983. He joined the Department of History in 1984 and served as head from 1995 to 1998.

Dr. Waiser is one of Canada's leading historians, specializing in the western and northern Prairies. He has written eight books and is currently working on his ninth, a history of Saskatchewan commissioned by the U of S and supported by the government of Saskatchewan as well as the federal department of Canadian Heritage for the provincial centennial. His latest book, All Hell Can't Stop Us: The On-to-Ottawa Trek and Regina Riot, won a 2003 Saskatchewan Book Award for non-fiction.

An earlier work, Loyal till Death: Indians and the North West Rebellion was co-authored with Professor Blair Stonechild, head of Indigenous Studies at the First Nations University of Canada. The book was praised for its sensitivity in telling the stories of Indians during this turbulent time. It won a 1997 Saskatchewan Book Award for First Peoples Publishing and was a finalist for the Governor General's Literary Award for non-fiction.

Waiser's award-winning efforts also include the broadcast medium. Working with CBC producer Paul Dederick, he hosted and co-produced Looking Back, a series of nearly 50 six-minute segments aired on CBC TV's Saskatchewan Now early evening news from 1998 to 2001.

Looking Back was praised for its approach of telling historical stories from the perspective of people who were there. Looking Back was short listed for the Pierre Berton Award and received an honourable mention at the Columbus International Film and Video Festival. Material from the program has been adapted into the 2003 book Looking Back: True Tales from Saskatchewan's Past.

Dr. Waiser is adept at satisfying the rigorous demands of scholarly work. He has published 13 refereed articles and served as chair of the advisory board of the scholarly journal Canadian Historical Review from 2000 to 2003.

He is an active member of local and regional historical societies, and has served on the board of Canada's National History Society since 2001.

Dr. Waiser brings his enthusiasm for our shared history to the lecture hall and to his mentorship of numerous graduate students. He received the College of Arts & Sciences Teaching Excellence Award in 2002 for these efforts.

Dr. Waiser has sought to share the knowledge and understanding gained from his extensive scholarship in order to develop public policy and public awareness of the context of current issues, in particular public access to historical census materials. He has contributed greatly to this institution's commitment to its sense of place, while increasing national appreciation for the richness and diversity of the history of Canada's West.

Distinction in Public Service and Extension Award

Brian Rossnagel

This award recognizes a member of faculty who has extended the University's expertise to the wider community. Brian Rossnagel is the Spring 2004 recipient.

Dr. Rossnagel is a Professor in the Department of Plant Science, based at the renowned U of S Crop Development Centre (CDC). He began his distinguished career at the University of Manitoba, where he earned a B.Sc. and later, his Ph.D. He joined the U of S in 1977.

Dr. Rossnagel's work has centered mainly on the improvement of feed and food barley and oat for the Canadian Prairies, where he and his colleagues developed more than 35 varieties. As of the 2003 crop year, fields sown to his cultivars comprised about five million acres—more than half of all feed barley and oat acreage in Saskatchewan and Alberta.

A much-sought-after speaker, Dr. Rossnagel has shared his expertise at more than 300 extension events in Canada, Australia, the United States, Japan and several European countries. His knowledge transfer activities have also included a plethora of industry meetings, telephone and radio interviews, field days and tours. He has become the farmer's first choice for information on barley, oats, seed production and associated topics.

Over the years, he has built an extensive network of research collaborators, including colleagues in private industry, the NRC Plant Biotechnology Institute, and Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada research centres in Ontario and the Prairie Provinces. His university collaborations span the country and reach into the United States, Australia and the European Union.

Dr. Rossnagel's scholarly work includes more than 85 papers in peer reviewed journals and he has made key contributions as member and chair of numerous University committees.

He has been active in many professional and agricultural organizations including the Canadian Society of Agronomy, the Royal Agricultural Societies of the Commonwealth, Canadian Western Agribition, the American Oat Workers Conference, the North American Barley Workers and the International Oat Conference.

In 2000, Dr. Rossnagel was named to the three-year W.J. White Professorship.

In 1998 he received the Kirylchuk Award for Outstanding Contribution to the Western Canadian Oat Industry from the Prairie Oat Growers Association. He is an honorary life member of both the Saskatchewan and Canadian Seed Growers Association, a fellow of the Agricultural Institute of Canada and was recently named Distinguished Agrologist by the Saskatchewan Institute of Agrologists.

Brian Rossnagel's accomplishments in research and development, his untiring volunteer work, and his dedication to sharing knowledge to benefit farmers truly exemplifies the spirit of public service and extension recognized by this award.

Governor General's Academic Medals

These medals are awarded to the undergraduate student and graduate student with the highest academic standing.

Jasrajbir Singh Baath (Silver Medal)

Jasrajbir was born in Punjab (India) and moved to Canada in 1991. He graduates with a Bachelor of Science Three-year Degree with Great Distinction with a major in Biochemistry. Jasrajbir is the recipient of the 2004 Spring Convocation Three-year Degree Medal as the most distinguished graduate in the College of Arts & Science graduating with a Three-year Degree.

Jasrajbir has been the recipient of numerous awards and scholarships during his academic career at the University of Saskatchewan. These awards include: the Arts & Science ASSET Scholarship, the Dr. Valentine Guy Criswick Scholarship, the SaskPower Scholarship, University of Saskatchewan Undergraduate Scholarships, just to name a few. Jasrajbir has also been named on the Dean's Honour List every year, and received a NSERC Undergraduate Research Award in 2002, 2003 and 2004.

He has also been very active as a volunteer at the Emergency Ward at the Royal University Hospital, the Saskatchewan Association for the Rehabilitation of the Brain Injured (SARABI), at the Hantleman Building Psychiatric Ward as well as volunteering regularly for on-campus activities such as the Alumni Reunion, Orientation and Shinerama.

Jasrajbir has applied to several medical schools. His long-term goal in medicine is to become a surgeon but at this time he is unsure of his field of specialty.

Angela Baerwald (Gold Medal)

Angela Baerwald was born in Rosetown, Saskatchewan in 1975. She was raised on a farm near Elrose, where she attended elementary and high school. Angela received a B.Sc. (Honours) in Physiology in 1997 from the University of Saskatchewan, followed by a Doctor of Philosophy in Obstetrics, Gynecology and Reproductive Sciences in 2003.

Angela's thesis work characterized ovarian function in women during natural menstrual cycles. The most exciting accomplishment of this study was the discovery that follicles within the ovary develop at more than one time during the menstrual cycle, a phenomenon never before documented. The results of this study received national and international recognition and have provided a new model for studying ovarian function in women. It is anticipated that the knowledge of follicular waves may change the way in which ovarian follicular development is stimulated in women undergoing treatment for infertility. Angela's work also included the study of women taking oral contraception. The results of her work have increased our understanding of the biologic mechanisms underlying follicular growth in women, and provided insight into the mechanisms underlying emergency contraception.

Angela is currently pursuing postdoctoral work in the Division of Reproductive Medicine at the Ottawa Civic Hospital at the University of Ottawa. Outside of her academic life, she plays the piano and she and her husband enjoy a variety of outdoor activities including hiking, swimming, water-skiing, downhill skiing, curling, baseball and time spent at the lake with friends and family. Angela aspires to return to the West to raise a family and establish herself as a bench-to-bedside scientist in the exciting field of reproductive science and medicine.

History of the University of Saskatchewan

The University of Saskatchewan was established by the University Act on April 3, 1907, only 18 months after Saskatchewan became a province.

The people of the province, as well as their government, were instrumental in shaping the new University. The provincial government requested all residents who were graduates of a Canadian or British university to form the first Convocation and elect the University's Senate. The Senate, in turn, elected five members to the first Board of Governors, while the province appointed three. In 1908, the Board selected Professor Walter Charles Murray, of Dalhousie University, as the first President.

Classes in Arts and Science began in September, 1909, in downtown Saskatoon. Construction of the campus began in 1910 and the first buildings were occupied in the fall of 1912. They included the College Building (Administration Building), Saskatchewan Hall (a student residence), residences for the Dean of Agriculture and the President, a laboratory for Engineering and a number of farm buildings.

From the beginning, the University established an emphasis on research and teaching in a context of community service, and encouraged co-operation among departments and divisions in tackling common problems. The development of rust-resistant strains of wheat, for example, initiated by the University and federal and provincial research agencies, has been of untold value to the prairie economy.

In 1909, the University had 70 students and five professors, including the President. Today there are over 19,000 students studying in 13 colleges and one school. This is the only university in Canada with five health-science colleges and a major teaching hospital on the same campus. The University offers Spring & Summer Session, evening courses, Independent Studies courses and distance education as well as on-campus daytime courses.

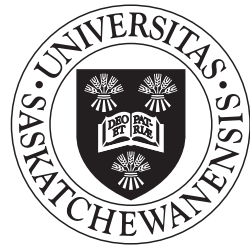

The University of Saskatchewan overlooks the South Saskatchewan River from a 755 hectare site. The campus itself is 147 hectares; a research park, the University farm and experimental plots make up the remainder.

Most early buildings on campus are Collegiate Gothic in style and are constructed in a local dolomite, popularly known as greystone. Subsequently constructed buildings also have greystone, as well as Tyndall stone (pre-cut slabs quarried in Tyndall, Manitoba), concrete, brick, glass and aggregate facings.

The University offers many points of interest for visitors: the Diefenbaker Canada Centre, Museum of Natural Sciences, Museum of Antiquities, Biology Museum, Pharmaceutical Museum, the Observatory, the Gordon Snelgrove Gallery, the St. Thomas More Gallery, Rugby Chapel, the Little Stone Schoolhouse, the Memorial Gates, Patterson Garden and the Kenderdine Gallery.

Electrical Engineering - Thesis: High Speed Digital Signal Compensation on Printed Circuit Boards

Adam Edward Bourassa, Melfort

Physics & Engineering Physics - Thesis: The Characterization and Calibration of the OSIRIS
Infrared Imager

Pradeep Chanabasappa Budihlal, Saskatoon

Veterinary Microbiology - Thesis: Bovine Luman:
Molecular Cloning, Characterization and Role in Bovine Herpesvirus Type 1 Replication

Kristina Ann Campbell, Lashburn

Kinesiology - Thesis: The Effect of Resistance and Aerobic Exercises on Excess Post-Exercise Oxygen Consumption in Younger and Older Men

Bonnie Laura Chaban, Yorkton

Microbiology & Immunology - Thesis: Identification and Analysis of the Flagellin Gene and Protein from the Genus Pectinatus

Shannon Ruth Chant, Rouleau

Plant Science - Thesis: Imidazolinone Tolerance in Lentil (Lens culinaris Medik)

Ru Gang Chen, Saskatoon

Mechanical Engineering - Thesis: Measurement and Numerical Simulation of Moisture Transport by Capillarity, Gravity and Diffusion in Porous Potash Beds

Jin Cheng, Kaifeng, People's Republic of China

Electrical Engineering - Thesis: Silicon Firewall
Prototype

Jayda Lee-Ann Cleave, Kamloops, British Columbia

Toxicology Graduate Program - Thesis: Characterization, Control and Biological Effects of Airborne Dust in Swine Barns

Heather Marie Copley, King City, Ontario

Toxicology Graduate Program - Thesis: Validation of Capillary Zone Electrophoresis in Forensic Toxicological Analyses: Screening Whole Blood

Matthew Geord Crane, Saskatoon
Mechanical Engineering - Thesis: Commissioning of a Stereoscopic Particle Image Velocimetry System

Nikhil Kumar Das, Saskatoon
Chemical Engineering - Thesis: Low Temperature Steam
Reforming of Ethanol for Hydrogen Production

Janel Christel Dickin, Saskatoon
Animal & Poultry Science - Thesis: Genetic Evaluation of the Mammalian Ghrelin Gene

Blessing Ohwo Diejomaoh, Nigeria
Electrical Engineering - Thesis: Fast Identification
Algorithms and Their Implementation for Physical Manipulation of Biological Cells

Clayton Alec Dubyk, Saskatoon
Soil Science - Thesis: Spatial Variability of Soil Boron
Availability and Its Impact on Canola Yield

Nathan David Dyck, Saskatoon
Agricultural & Bioresource Engineering - Thesis: A Computerized Feed Delivery and Information
Management System for Beef Feedlots

Rachael Clarice Eliason, Stewart Valley
Soil Science - Thesis: Assessing the Phytotoxicity and Persistence of Flucarbazone in Prairie Soils

Claudia Cecilia Erosa-Lopez, Merida, Mexico
Chemistry - Thesis: Metabolism of the Plant Hormone
Absciscic Acid: Fate of 7'-Hydroxyaba

Yan Feng, Suzhou, People's Republic of China
Electrical Engineering - Thesis: Locally Weighted Regression in Sensor Calibration Techniques

Jian Dong Ge, Zhenjiang, People's Republic of China
Electrical Engineering - Thesis: A Q-Enhanced 3.6-GHz
Tunable CMOS Bandpass Filter for Wireband
Wireless Applications

Neil Douglas Gerein, Kindersley
Electrical Engineering - Thesis: A Spatial Diversity
Scheme for Fixed Point Indoor Wireless Communication

Adam Wattier Gillespie, Guelph, Ontario
Soil Science - Thesis: Measurement of Root Exudation
Patterns for Plants Grown in Petroleum
Hydrocarbon-contaminated and Non-contaminated
Soils

Gavin Leslie Graham, Lone Rock
Plant Science - Thesis: Synergism of Colletotrichum
truncatum with Herbicides for Control of Scentless Chamomile (Matricaria perforata)

Qingjuan Guan, Saskatoon
Computer Science - Thesis: Gaussian Bayesian Network
Based Toolkit for Policy Analysis

Jennifer Karen Holm, Saskatoon
Environmental Engineering - Thesis: The Water Quality of the Wood River and the Effects of Land Use

Qi Hu, Saskatoon
Civil & Geological Engineering - Thesis: The Influence of Joint Reinforcement on the Compressive
Capacity of Concrete Block Masonry Walls

Yuelong Huang, Saskatoon
Mechanical Engineering - Thesis: Erosion-Corrosion and Corrosion Wear Evaluation of Materials in Potash
Brine

Rajesh Shriniwas Jaiswal, Saskatoon
Veterinary Biomedical Sciences - Thesis: Developmental Pattern of the Small (1-3 mm) Antral Follicles in Cattle

Lindsey Mary Johnson, Carstairs, Alberta
Biochemistry - Thesis: Regulation of A-Raf Kinase
Activity and Identification of New Substrates

Anton Kachayev, Zaporozhye, Ukraine
Electrical Engineering - Thesis: LIGA-Micromachined
Tight Microwave Couplers

Tianbo Kuang, Wuhan, People's Republic of China
Computer Science - Thesis: Error Control for Scalable
Image and Video Coding

Vikas Kulshrestha, Saskatoon
Veterinary Microbiology - Thesis: Molecular Characterization of 33K Protein of Bovine
Adenovirus Type 3

Sha Li, People's Republic of China
Electrical Engineering - Thesis: System Architecture and Hardware Implementations for a Reconfigurable
MPLS Router

Yifeng Li, Chongqing, People's Republic of China
Electrical Engineering - Thesis: Bulk System Reliability
Evaluation in a Deregulated Power Industry

Xiaodong Liang, Liaoning, People's Republic of China Electrical Engineering - Thesis: Investigation of the Cross-Magnetizing Phenomenon in Saturated
Synchronous Machines Applying the Finite
Element Method

Arthur Wai Yin Lieu, Calgary, Alberta
Geological Sciences - Thesis: Characterization of Metals Distribution and Their Leaching Behavior in an Uranium Mine Waste Rock Pile, Key Lake,
Saskatchewan, Canada

Dawn Marie Loveday, Saskatoon
Animal & Poultry Science - Thesis: Interspecies Validation of the Mobile Nylon Bag Technique for Measuring Protein Digestibility of Feeds

Stacey Donnelle Lovo, Lafleche Kinesiology - Thesis: A Comparison of the Effect of Trunk Stability and Trunk Movement
Strengthening on Vertical Take-off Velocity

Yingshen Lu, Qingdao, People's Republic of China
Chemistry - Thesis: Metal Complexes of 3-amido-5-methylrazoles

Wai Kwong Ma, Saskatoon
Soil Science - Thesis: A Polymerase Chain Reaction and Denaturing Gradient Gel Electrophoresis Procedure for Analysis of Arbuscular Mycorrhizal Fungi in Soil

Kelly Marie McKeen, Harvey Station, New Brunswick
Chemical Engineering - Thesis: Gas Mixing in the Bottom Zone of a High Density Circulating
Fluidized Bed Riser

Christine Louise McLoughlin, Livelong
Anatomy & Cell Biology - Thesis: The Role of Protein
Phosphates 5 (PP5) in the Regulation of Heat
Shock Factor 1 (HSF1) in Xenopus laevis Oocytes

Ran Mo, Harbin, People's Republic of China
Electrical Engineering - Thesis:
Deterministic/Probabilistic Evaluation in Composite System Planning

Carol Lynn Nagle, Saskatoon
Community Health & Epidemiology - Thesis: Smokeless
Tobacco: The Prevalence of Use and Associated Factors Within Grades Six and Nine Youth in Three Saskatchewan Regions

Virginia Leigh Nelson, Lethbridge, Alberta
Mechanical Engineering - Thesis: Effects of Moisture Content in Windrows During Composting of Feedlot Manure in Southern Alberta

Philippe Nieuwenhof, Dundee, Quebec
Agricultural & Bioresource Engineering - Thesis:
Modeling and Validation of the Energy
Requirements of a Non-row Sensitive Corn Header for a Pull-Type Forage Harvester

Rajesh Nighot, Nagpur, India

Electrical Engineering - Thesis: Incorporating Substation and Switching Station Related Outages in Composite System Reliability Evaluation

Eric Robert Claude Pélét, Saskatoon

Electrical Engineering - Thesis: Signal Distortion Caused by Tree Foliage in a 2.5 GHz Channel

Marcelle Olufemi Phaneuf, Gatineau, Quebec

Toxicology Graduate Program - Thesis: The Effect of Alpha Radiation from Polonium-210 on Bovine Tracheal Basal Epithelial Cells

Craig Alexander Pinkoski, Edmonton, Alberta

Kinesiology - Thesis: The Effects of Conjugated Linoleic Acid (CLA) Supplementation on Body Composition, Strength and Energy Expenditure in Humans When Combined With Resistance Training

Erin Elizabeth Powell, Saskatoon

Chemical Engineering - Thesis: Optimization of Glucoraphanin Extraction from Cardaria draba

Thomas Zachary Regier, Saskatoon

Physics & Engineering Physics - Thesis: Development of a Gamma-Ray Beam Profile Monitor for the High-Intensity Gamma-Ray Source

Jennifer Marie Rothecker, Regina

Geological Sciences - Thesis: The Eomyidae and Cricetidae of the Rodent Hill Local Fauna, Cypress Hills Formation, Saskatchewan

Julie Lynn Roy, Prince Albert

Soil Science - Thesis: Microbial Diversity Associated with Roots of Plants Growing in Petroleum Contaminated Soils

Daniel Derek Scothorn, Saskatoon

Animal & Poultry Science - Thesis: Evaluation of Extrusion Processed Pea and Canola Blends for Lactating Dairy Cattle

Golha Sharifi, Tehran, Islamic Republic of Iran

Computer Science - Thesis: Seamless Communication and Access to Information for Mobile Users in Wireless Environment

Richard Harvey Siggers, Kamloops, British Columbia

Animal & Poultry Science - Thesis: Cloning of Porcine Proglucagon and Effect of Commensal Bacteria on Relative Expression in Intestine of Gnotobiotic Pigs

Gagan Deep Singh, Ghaziabad, India

Electrical Engineering - Thesis: Extreme Weather Modeling in Electrical Transmission and Distribution System Reliability Evaluation

Robert Cameron John Spencer, Saskatoon

Plant Science - Thesis: Ozone as a Post-harvest Treatment for Potatoes

Stacy Ann Strom, Creighton

Animal & Poultry Science - Thesis: Characterization and Mapping of Microphthalmia-Associated Transcription Factor (MITF) in Cattle

Chuanzhi Su, Shanghai, People's Republic of China

Civil & Geological Engineering - Thesis: Oxygen Transfer Model for Deep Aeration Systems

Akihiro Taguchi, Saskatoon

Electrical Engineering - Thesis: Residual-Excited Linear Predictive (RELPL) Vocoder System with TMS320C6711 DSK and Vowel Characterization

Pui Hang Tam, Hong Kong

Biochemistry - Thesis: An Investigation of the Mos Operon from Sinorhizobium meliloti L5-30: Characterization of Recombinant MosA, Which Shows Dihydrodipicolinate Synthase Activity

Elsa Tai Yen Tan, Kelantan, Malaysia

Civil & Geological Engineering - Thesis: Analysis of Temperature and Soil Suction for the Purpose of Optimizing Road Bans in Saskatchewan

Mark Andrew Taylor, Saskatoon

Biology - Thesis: Determination of the Floral Features
Indicative of Nectar - Sugar Production in Canola
Brassica rapa

Russell Gordon Trischuk, Saskatoon

Plant Science - Thesis: Photoperiod and Cultivar Effects
During Acclimation, De-Acclimation and Re-
Acclimation on Spring and Winter Wheat
(Triticum aestivum)

Walgamage Lasantha Chandana Ubayasena, Saskatoon

Plant Science - Thesis: Systematic Affinities and Identification of Echinacea asteraceae Species Based on Genomic DNA, Chloroplast DNA, and Phytochemical Diversity

Grace Yvonne van Melle, Glen Bain

Soil Science - Thesis: Manure-Induced Nitrous Oxide
Flux from Clay and Sandy Loam Soils in the Brown
Soil Zone of Saskatchewan

Bodhinayake Waduawatte Lekamalage, Blangoda, Sri Lanka

Soil Science - Thesis: Characterization of Surface Soil
Hydraulic Properties in Sloping Landscapes

Feng Wang, Saskatoon

Biology - Thesis: Isolation and Characterization of Genes Expressed During the Infection Process of Blumeria graminis f.sp. tritici

Shubhash Wasti, Saskatoon

Computer Science - Thesis: Towards Hardware-Based Packet Filtering Through the Use of Content
Addressable Memory

Brandace Danielle Winkvist, Gull Lake

Community Health & Epidemiology - Thesis: Does Hormone Replacement Therapy Benefit Cognition in Elderly, Post-Menopausal Women: A True or Mistaken Association

Kenneth Joseph Wolfe, Saskatoon

Psychiatry - Thesis: An Examination of Kindling's Effect on Spatial Cognition

Owen Gary Wourms, St Walburg

Civil & Geological Engineering - Thesis: An Evaluation of CBR Plus Treated Subgrade Soils

Hao Ya, Saskatoon

Applied Microbiology & Food Science - Thesis: Effects of Processing Conditions and Ingredients on the Physicochemical and Rheological Properties of Pea Protein Isolate Gels

Naihua Yuan, Hefei, People's Republic of China

Mechanical Engineering - Thesis: An Equalization
Technique for High Rate OFDM Systems

Ying Zhang, Hangzhou, People's Republic of China

Finance & Management Science - Thesis: The Effects of Partial Holidays on the Market Micro-Structure of Firms Interlisted on the TSX and NYSE: Evidence
From Intraday Data

Dongmei Zhao, Saskatoon

Electrical Engineering - Thesis: Improved Multi-Point
Communication for Data and Voice Over IEEE
802.1b

Jingfang Zheng, Saskatoon

Computer Science - Thesis: A Study of Consistency
Propagation in Constraint Optimization Solving with Resource Tradeoffs

Zhenfeng Zhu, Shanxi, People's Republic of China

Mechanical Engineering - Thesis: A Study of the Interfacial Features of Gas-liquid Annular
Two-phase Flow

Master of Veterinary Science

Erin Elizabeth Fierheller, Beaumont, Alberta
Large Animal Clinical Sciences - Project: Epidural
Analgesia in Cattle: A Romifidine and Morphine Combination

Ryan Wesley Shoemaker, Elkham, Manitoba
Large Animal Clinical Sciences - Project: In Situ
Coagulation and Transection of the Ovarian
Pedicle: An Alternative to Laparoscopic
Ovariectomy in Juvenile Horses

Doctor of Philosophy

John Andrew Berezowski, Pelly
Large Animal Clinical Sciences - Thesis: The Epidemiology of Malignant Catarrhal Fever Viruses in Bison

Ashikur Rahman Bhuiya, Dhaka, Bangladesh
Electrical Engineering - Thesis: A Study of Bilateral Contracts in Power System Network

Patricia Joan Bobyn, Saskatoon
Nutrition - Thesis: Nutritional Influence on Oxidative
Stress in Global Ischemia

Joanne Lisa Butler, Saskatoon
Sociology - Thesis: Tools with no Warranty: The State Promotion of Entrepreneurship Training in Saskatchewan

Manashi Nithar Chatterjee, Pune, India
Chemistry - Thesis: Versatile Molecular Design
Strategies and Generation of Novel DNA Sequence
Targeted Ligands

Archaeology - Thesis: A Re-Evaluation of the McKean
Series on the Northern Plains

Duqiang Wu, Saskatoon
Mechanical Engineering - Thesis: Modeling and Experimental Evaluation of A Load-Sensing and Pressure Compensated Hydraulic System

Marie Suzanne Zwarych, Rose Valley
Educational Administration - Thesis: Student
Attachment to School in Three Secondary Schools

Awards to Graduating Students

Education

Saskatchewan Teachers' Federation Prize presented to Janelle Ruth Senga
J. Victoria Minors Book Prize to Christina Sherri Schmid

Graduate Studies and Research

Governor General's Gold medal presented to Angela Renee Baerwald

University of Saskatchewan

Graduate Thesis Awards

Humanities and Fine Arts presented presented to Audrey Therese Christine Bayduza, M.Mus., Music.
Thesis: Voice Leading Procedures in the Development Sections of Haydn's Piano Sonatas

Life Sciences presented to Angela Renee Baerwald, Ph.D., Obstetrics, Gynecology, and Reproductive Sciences. Thesis: Human Ovarian Follicular Dynamics During Natural Menstrual Cycles and Oral Contraception Cycles

Physical and Engineering Sciences presented to Marcelo Sales, Ph.D., Chemistry. Thesis: Thiopyran Route to Polypropionates: Increasing Stereochemical
Diversity of Aldol Adducts

Social Sciences presented to Elizabete Margarido Rocha, Ph.D., Psychology. Thesis: Children's Memories of Dental Procedures: Effects of Question Type,
Individual Differences and Temporal Delay
