SECTION 2 – TO BE FILLED OUT BY REFEREE

A study# abroad program is an academically and personally challenging program that expects students to learn from both the experiential and traditional academic methods and to synthesize these approaches. In making decisions on the appropriateness of a student's participation in the study abroad program, we need to know about their motivation, adaptability, academic skills, and those personal qualities that will give students the ability to benefit fully from the experience.

We cannot overemphasize the value of your candid appraisal of the applicant’s chances for academic and non academic success in a study abroad program, weighing both strong and weak points. We will be happy to accept a letter in lieu of this form.

Please note: We accept students into programs on an application basis. A study abroad placement cannot be given to a student until all of the student’s application materials are received.
