SPAN 235.3 CULTURES IN MEXICO

Yucatán, Mexico

May 11 – 25, 2025

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This study abroad course takes students to the University of the Yucatan and explores the cultural, historic, linguistic, and social evolution of the Yucatán peninsula, Mexico. Mayan achievements in cosmology, governance, architecture, art, and agriculture will be discussed and aims to offer students a broad view of Mexican society and culture. Students will explore different topics such as Mexican history, society, politics, education, customs, traditions and other expressions of spiritual and material life in Mexico.

- “This opportunity provides invaluable exposure to different cultures, fostering a greater appreciation for global diversity. It also challenges students to apply their classroom knowledge in real-world situations, enhancing their problem-solving skills and adaptability.”
- Parham, Taught Abroad Student (2024)
